STATE VFW COMMANDER IS SPEAKER

Department Commander George E. Hartman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was the principal speaker Thursday evening at the 17th annual banquet of the Richard J. Gross Post of the VFW at East Berlin.

The entire staff of the 21st district of the VFW was among the 80 in attendance at the banquet which marked the first official appearance of the state VFW commander in this district since his election at Harrisburg last summer at the state convention. The district staff was headed by the district commander, Paul Kopp.

The state commander was accompanied to East Berlin by the state VFW adjutant, Robert Musser. Other VFW officials in attendance included Harold Hoke, Spring Grove, commander of the fourth district of the Military Order of Cooties, and George Myers, commander of Cootie Pup Tent 57 of Adams County. Sixteen of the VFW posts in the 21st District had representatives at the banquet.

Commander Hartman spoke of the community responsibility of veterans' organizations and discussed the importance of religious freedom. He urged veterans to work for the passage of a pending house bill to expand benefits for overseas veterans.

Harold Criswell, Mt. Wolf, district membership chairman, thanked the Gross post for its support to the membership drive.

The banquet was served by the VFW Auxiliary. The affair was held in the Gross post home.

HOLD ANNUAL SCHOOL DINNER ON THURSDAY

Two hundred fifty full or part-time employees of the Gettysburg Joint School District, school directors and other school-connected folk attended the eighth annual personnel dinner of the school system at the Senior High School cafeteria Thursday evening.

Among the 380 in attendance were husbands and wives of many of the employees and directors.

Oren H. Wilson, president of the joint school board, presided. The entertainment was provided by student musical talent. A roast turkey dinner was served by the cafeteria staff with vocational home economic girls helping as waitresses.

Noting that the Gettysburg Joint School System is a $1,600,000 business operation, President Wilson thanked all present for the part they play in the successful operation of the school system.

Presentations of silver trays to two teachers in their first year of retirement was made by Mr. Wilson. Miss Maude Pensyl, a former Cumberland Twp. teacher who ended 47 years of teaching at Eisenhower Elementary School last June, was seated with other retired teachers at a center table.

The other presentation was made for Fred P. Haehnlen, a retired high school teacher who served 40 years and is now in Hawaii.

President Wilson enumerated these groups who were in attendance: eight school administrators, 12 secretaries, 574 elementary teachers, 364 junior high teachers, 35 senior high teachers, two

COUNTY GIRL IS ACCLAIMED BEST SPELLER

Miss Barbara Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Spangler, Gettysburg R. 4, was acclaimed the champion speller Thursday night in the annual spelling bee held over WGET.

An Eighth Grade student, taught by Miss Mary I. Hartman, Miss Spangler was second runner up in last year's contest.

First runner-up Thursday was Miss Lynne Trainer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Henry Trainer, 169 E. Middle St., also an Eighth Grade student taught by Miss Hartman.

Philip Koons, son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Koons, 237 Springs Ave., was second runner-up. A Seventh Grade student, he is taught by Mrs. Charles A. Smith.

Named as the alternate was Miss Diane Bream, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bream, McKnightstown, and an Eighth Grade student of Miss Hartman.

Participants in the competition were selected by a written test given in the Seventh and Eighth Grade English classes on January 29.

CONTEST APRIL 18

The champion and two runners-up will compete in a written spelling test against similar winners from other schools at Susquehanna Township Senior High School, Progress, on April 18.

The 50 students scoring the highest in that test will enter the finals, an oral "spell down," at the Harrisburg Community Theater Friday, May 15.

For Thursday night's "spelling bee" Mrs. Ruth Wisler, head of the English department at the local junior high school, pronounced the words. Miss Hartman was in charge.

PARTICIPANTS

BIGLERVILLE COUPLE SUES CADDIE HOMES

Donald P. and Joan C. Hollabaugh, Biglerville R. 1, have brought an action in assumpsit in Adams County Court asking in excess of $19,000 from Caddie Homes, Inc., Harrisburg.

According to the complaint in the suit filed in the prothonotary's office for Mr. and Mrs. Hollabaugh by Attorney John A. MacPhail, the Hollabaughs entered into a contract with Caddie Homes last May for construction of a residential dwelling on the Hollabaughs' real estate in Butler Twp.

On May 3, according to the Hollabaughs, they paid Caddie Homes $12,605.36 with the understanding that the amount covered all labor and all materials for the construction of the house.

PAID FOR COMPLETION

Caddie Homes, according to the Hollabaughs, hired Richard Beamer on May 15 to dig the foundations and on June 15 engaged Ralph Bowling to construct the building.

Later, according to the complaint, Beamer and Bowling stopped work because they were not paid. Caddie, the Hollabaughs claim, refused to engage any other contractors to finish the work, and failed to deliver all of the materials needed for the construction.

The Hollabaughs allege that, when Caddie refused to complete the building, they engaged Ralph Bowling to finish the work, first paying him bill for $3,024 for services incurred up to that point. They also paid $4,000 more for completion of the work.

The complaint also lists other sums paid for painting, masonry and plastering work, drilling the well, electrical work, etc., to complete the home and ask $19,575.03 from Caddie Homes, Inc.

In the first 12 hours after President Kennedy was assassinated the AP moved 219 stories totaling more than 63,000 words, directly related to or stemming from the tragic event.

In the first four days more than quarter of a million words were moved, and although most of this huge volume of copy originated from Washington and Dallas, practically every bureau in the AP system took part; there were 131 other datelines.

Over the same span, AP Wirephoto delivered 248 action and associated pictures from staff and member sources.

There were 96 different bylines in the four days.

During the past year over 4,400 persons left articles of value in restaurants along the Pennsylvania Turnpike, including one man who lost his wife.

The man, and his wife, stopped at a Mechanicsburg service station, near Harrisburg, and after getting a cup of coffee the man jumped in the family car and drove off.

He drove as far as Bedford before he discovered that his wife was missing. So he called back, and the restaurant manager at Mechanicsburg arranged for her to take a bus to Bedford. When she arrived the man complained about the cost of the bus fare.

A lady left her purse in the South Somerset restaurant with $1,200 in cash and negotiable bonds. She got it back, but forgot to say "Thank You."

Another lady lost her pet parakeet, that answered to the name of "Pretty Boy." At last report the parakeet is still among the missing.

Reds Worried Over Defection

MOSCOW (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler was called to the Foreign Office today for a stern talk from Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko about the defection of Yuri Nosenko, informed sources said.

Nosenko, a Soviet expert at the Geneva disarmament conference, sought asylum in the United States. His decision reported in certain Russian circles here to have caused the gravest concern about the effect it may have on the conference in Geneva.

One source said the Russians are surprised at American silence about the defection following the State Department announcement that he had sought asylum in the United States.

Man Who Lived In Same House With Three Women Is Divorced By His Wife

LONDON (AP)—A man who lived with three women simultaneously in one bungalow was relieved of one of them — his wife — by the divorce court today.

The man was Donald M. Goodman, 37, and his many-splendored love life was, with some restraint, described by Judge Stanley Rees as "bizarre in the extreme."

The divorce decree was obtained by Swiss-born Mrs. Anita Goodman, 28, on cruelty and misconduct grounds. She testified that at one and the same time Goodman, a company director, maintained in the bungalow:

Herself, his legal wife (he had been divorced by two previous ones).

Miss Dorothy Busey, 24, by whom he had already had an illegitimate child.

Miss Gwyneth Spooner, 31, his secretary, who served him after office hours in other ways.

MISS NUTTER IS HONORED BY B AND P WOMEN

Miss Mary Alice Nutter, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Nutter, S. Franklin St., and a senior at Gettysburg High School, was named "Girl of the Month" by the Business and Professional Women's Club at its dinner meeting Thursday evening in the YWCA.

Miss N. Louise Ramer, chairman of the personal development committee of the club and guidance counselor at the high school, introduced Miss Nutter. The local high school student has been a member of the school choir for four years, is soloist for the choir, is director of the junior choir at the local Methodist Church, was a 1962 member of the state chorus, is an active member of St. Paul's AME Zion Church here and plans to attend college where she will major in music.

A candlelight ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Charles Leader, chairman of the World Affairs Committee, in observance of International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Club Week. Mrs. James Harness and Miss Joy assisted Mrs. Leader in lighting candles for the 28 national federations comprising the International Federation. Mrs. Leader told the club the international organization is designed to promote the interests of business and professional women and to extend opportunities through education along lines of industrial, scientific and vocational activities.

HEAR GERMAN GIRLS

As part of the international observance, Mrs. Leader introduced Miss Barbel Lilli Lerche and Miss Renate G. Bahr, two exchange students from Germany attending the local high school this year. The young women spoke of their native land and its educational programs, and told the club they feel much at home "in this area with its villages and farmland."

Stores here, "with so many items," are unusual, the two young women said. In Germany, they said, there would be a number of stores, each with a portion of the items carried by a single store here. Miss Lerche reported corn — a vegetable not grown in Germany — one of her favorites and said she sent her mother cans of corn at Christmas along with canned fruit juices which are not available in Germany.

TO ELECT IN APRIL

Miss Joy Fair gave the invocation opening the meeting. The president, Mrs. Paul Penser, announced that a District 7 Council meeting will be held in the visiting nurses home at York Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Members planning to attend should contact Mrs. (Continued On Page 3)

OLD AND TIRED

They obviously had traveled a great distance, for some of them faltered frequently in flight. Many were obviously old and tired, and an occasional damaged wing could be observed. It was every crow for himself, as the stronger and faster birds swept out and around the slower ones in the lead.

Such a sight would have sent our forefathers into the night to latch the stable doors securely, prop the barn doors with another timber and speculate on what horrible storm lurked in the heavens.

But we're satisfied to stick with the weatherman. He's predicting light snow, possibly turning to rain, in the next 48 hours . . . nothing to get excited about.

If the weatherman is right, we can only assume that the crows were attending their annual meeting . . . perhaps voting on a stock split or choosing a new leader!

Man Found Unconscious

3 Days After His Auto Dives Off 1,000 Ft. Cliff

AUBURN, Calif. (AP)—Floyd A. Edens, 53, who lay undiscovered for three days after his car plunged 1,000 feet down a near-vertical cliff, remained unconscious today in a hospital.

He was discovered by a rescue party Thursday morning at the bottom of a cliff in a remote area in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada.

His rescuers said a single groan led them to where he lay, 200 feet from where his car came to rest after hurtling off narrow Mosquito Ridge Road high above.

The Oakland man, they said, was on his way from a driver's test in Auburn to the tunnel site where he worked—in Hell Hole Canyon.

QUICK VERDICT CONVICTS PAIR IN COURT HERE

Joseph Lee Brown, Fayetteville R. 2, and Larry Eugene Izer, Mt. Alto, were found guilty by an Adams County jury Thursday afternoon on charges of conspiracy to impersonate an officer, conspiracy to rob, and impersonation of a Pennsylvania State policeman.

The jury deliberated for 33 minutes before returning with its verdict of "guilty on all counts." Vincent C. Sanders, S. Stratton St. was foreman of the jury.

Immediately after the jury had returned its verdict, Judge W. C. Sheely found Brown guilty of a surety of the peace charge brought against him by Leo R. Kaufman, South Mountain, as a result of incidents occurring the same night the conspiracy and impersonation events occurred.

LAST JURY TRIAL

At the trial state police testified that Izer had admitted to them that he and Brown had planned to pose as state policemen when they stopped a car of George D. Galloway, 62, Fayetteville R. D., on the Newman Rd. last October. According to the officers, Izer said they planned to ask Galloway to show his driver's license, grab his wallet and flee. Similarly one of the officers told of statements by Brown that he was going to injure Kaufman. The testimony by the officers backed up testimony given by Galloway and Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman.

The case was the last criminal suit for jury trial during the current term of court. Trial of J. Henry Kneller, Gettysburg R. 5, on an assault and battery charge was heard this morning without a jury. Trial of another case scheduled for the current term was continued when the defendant failed to appear for trial and could not be located by the sheriff.

The jury which heard the Brown-Izer case included:

VERDICTS CORRECTED

Mary E. Almoney, New Oxford R. 2; Mrs. Betty Barnes, 309 Ridge Ave.; Howard Basehoar, Littlestown R. 1; Charles Groft, Hanover; Mrs. Rebecca Guise, York Springs R. 2; Howard F. Hankey, New Oxford R. 1; William Knouse, Orrtanna R. 1; Ervin Robert, 210 Mt. Littlestown; Vincent C. Sanders, 127 S. Stratton St.; Mrs. Grace Sterner, Hanover R. 1; Mervin I. Weikert, Gettysburg R. 2, and Mrs. Mary Y. Zinn, New Oxford R. 1.

Moulding of verdicts in two cases was incorrectly reported in prior stories of the current term of court.

In reaching its verdict of innocent in the case of obstructing an officer against Francis Hartlaub, Gettysburg R. 5, the jury returned with a verdict dividing the costs between Hartlaub and Officer Harold Smith. The court moulded the verdict releasing Smith from payment of half the costs. It was incorrectly reported that all of the costs had been placed on Hartlaub. Actually the half that had been levied by the jury on Officer Smith will be paid by the county. Similarly in the moulding of the jury verdict in the case of carrying a concealed weapon against Rodney Henry Cromer, Spring Grove R. 1, in which the jury divided the costs between Cromer and Officer Joseph H. Groft. The court moulded the verdict taking the portion of the costs off Officer Groft. It was incorrectly stated that the costs had all been placed on Cromer. The half of the costs assigned to Groft will be paid by the county.

Leader Of Greek Cypriots Insists Peace Force Must Be Under Control Of U.N.

By HAL McCLURE

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—President Makarios today rejected the British-American proposal to land an international peace force on embattled Cyprus and will take the matter to the United Nations immediately, authoritative diplomatic sources said.

Sporadic fighting persisted between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

There was no immediate official statement from Makarios or from U.S. Undersecretary of State George Ball, who ended three days of discussions in Nicosia.

UNDER U.N. COUNCIL

Presidential palace sources said the Greek Cypriot leader insisted that any international force be under control of the U.N. Security Council.

The U.S.-British plan called for an Atlantic Alliance army of 10,000 men with about 2,000

U.S. soldiers to keep peace.

There was no reaction to the hint from high Washington sources that Makarios wants an international peace force of British Commonwealth nations excluding American soldiers. Cyprus has been a commonwealth member since independence from Britain in 1960.

Greece and Turkey have treaties to defend Cyprus from aggression and both keep small garrisons on Cyprus for that purpose.

PROTECT MINORITY

Turkey is determined to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority, which charges Makarios wants to curb its rights by constitutional changes. These set off the fighting that began last Christmas and brought in more British troops as a truce force.

The cease-fire reached after savage fighting Thursday at Limassol on the south coast restored relative calm in this

As the car tumbled end over end, Edens was thrown out about 500 feet from the cliff's edge. Blood was found nearby and it appeared he was trying to crawl back up when he slipped and fell the rest of the way down the face.

Township Road Is Now Redding Lane

The Cumberland Twp. board of supervisors Thursday evening voted unanimously to name a new township road leading to the Walters development, south of the Fairfield Rd. "Redding Lane."

They also adopted ordinance 15, which prohibits motor vehicles in excess of eight tons gross weight from using all township roads. The ordinance does not apply to local pickup and delivery service.

The meeting was held at the home of the secretary, Richard E. Deaner, R. 3.

Redding Lane enters Rt. 116 from the development at the Church of the Nazarene.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Douglas Houston, who has been named secretary of the Gettysburg Joint School System.

A special meeting will be held early next week at the secretary's home to prepare the 1964 budget.

SAYS EUROPE SEES LBJ AS STRONG CHIEF

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Leaders of Western Europe feel President Johnson is a strong chief executive, John Rice, U.S. ambassador to the Netherlands, said Thursday.

"Europe feels that Mr. Johnson is carrying on the foreign policies of President Kennedy," said Rice, the ambassador to The Hague for three years.

A former chairman of Pennsylvania's Democratic Party, and secretary of the Commonwealth, Rice said the reaction to Johnson as president has been "excellent."

"DON'T DISLIKE US"

Rice was here to receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws at Temple University's mid-year commencement.

When asked why certain countries seem to "dislike" the United States despite American aid, Rice answered:

"It's not a question of people not liking us, they oppose us on certain policies."

He added "...demonstrations don't indicate genuine dislike."

"MY HEART IS YOURS"

The heart within me beats for you ... each hour of each day ... and through the night I dream with you ... each thing I do is woven in ... the warm web of your love ... which lifts me from the depths of woe ... to diamond stars above ... I cannot give you gold ... but what I offer you, my dear ... your heart can have and hold ... I give you hope to carry on ... faith when your faith runs low ... and wither thou may goest ... I will always go ... accept the treasures I bestow ... do with them what you will ... and may this St. Valentine's Day ... bring you a special thrill.

PARENTS MUST PAY DAMAGES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A juvenile court judge has assessed seven sets of parents $300 each to help pay for the damage their children did in a vandal attack in a North Philadelphia elementary school.

Judge Theodore O. Spaulding told the parents Wednesday, "you have a responsibility to make restitution."

The boys, ranging in age from 11 to 14, were adjudged delinquent and sent to the Youth Development Center for four months. After that they will continue on probation until their parents pay the final instalments. The specific charges were malicious mischief and trespassing. Damage was estimated at between $2,500 and $3,000.

The judge told the parents, "what bothers me is that all these boys have a good record. They stand before me looking like angels. But they acted like devils."

It is possible that our mothers also had kindred problems. Their solutions to most of them seemed to be that Fred and I should share more and more of everything good with our sisters. We early came to expect this on candy and cookies. Prompt consumption was the only effective, defensive measure.

But when our mothers carried the idea to the privilege of shooting our air rifles, or the use of our favorite agates for their taws in a game of keeps, we wondered if boys ever had any rights.

FRED'S FATHER had a small ranch. My father, an admiring friend of Fred Turner Sr., often declared the older Fred to be the most cheerfully optimistic man in the face of repeated disappointments, he had ever known. In those days there were few if any oil wells west, or north of Houston, Tex. Nevertheless, the senior Turner was always hopeful of an oil boom in our Coleman County.

Through my boyhood eyes, Fred's father was most generous man. When Fred asked him for money, he always received a quarter. My usual allowance was a dime. Fifteen cents was a most satisfactory touch.

I once told Fred his father was more generous than mine and strongly inferred he should do the buying of some jointly desired, essential item not obtainable in my father's store. Fred rolled his eyes toward the long candy case, which accounted for such popularity I might have had among other pupils, and opined that if his dad-owned a store with a candy case in it

Let's Look At The Record

FRED TURNER
Poignant Memories of an Old Friend
Whose Horse Won the Kentucky Derby

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

BAD NEWS spreads far, fast and immediately appears in surprising places. Sometimes it comes in double doses. Specifically, I am thinking of my old boyhood friend from Santa Anna days, Fred Turner.

October 30, last, Mrs. Hill and I arrived in Dublin, Ireland. As usual, my first buy was a local newspaper.

Inconspicuous, but nevertheless on the front page of the Irish Times, was a brief news story that Mrs. Fred Turner, of Midland, Tex., had been foully murdered by a prowler in the house.

My first impulse was to cable a word of sympathy and condolence. After thinking it through, I decided there was nothing anyone could have written or said to me that would have sounded good, or even welcome, had our situations been reversed. I smothered the impulse.

I HAD become accustomed to publicity concerning Fred Turner in American newspapers. Life magazine, I recalled, had featured him, along with some other southwestern, independent oil operators, with emphasis on his multimillion dollar of independence. That his name would be news in Ireland was something else. That week end there had been scores of momentous events nearer Dublin, Ireland, than Midland, Tex. So, I asked an Irishman.

He knitted his brows and came up with: "Turner? He had a stable of fine horses, didn't he?"

And that Fred Turner did indeed have. He often had an entry in the Kentucky Derby. Four or five years ago, one of them was the winner. Another entry or two, I think, have placed and perhaps won. I have not checked memory against the record.

FRED and I suffered together all the boyhood tortures and frustrations of grade school. Our homes in Santa Anna, Texas, were only a few hundred yards apart. Both of us were from large families. Both of us had more sisters than brothers. We had problems, problems and problems of a kindred character.

It is possible that our mothers also had kindred problems. Their solutions to most of them seemed to be that Fred and I should share more and more of everything good with our sisters. We early came to expect this on candy and cookies. Prompt consumption was the only effective, defensive measure.

But when our mothers carried the idea to the privilege of shooting our air rifles, or the use of our favorite agates for their taws in a game of keeps, we wondered if boys ever had any rights.

FRED'S FATHER had a small ranch. My father, an admiring friend of Fred Turner Sr., often declared the older Fred to be the most cheerfully optimistic man in the face of repeated disappointments, he had ever known. In those days there were few if any oil wells west, or north of Houston, Tex. Nevertheless, the senior Turner was always hopeful of an oil boom in our Coleman County.

Through my boyhood eyes, Fred's father was most generous man. When Fred asked him for money, he always received a quarter. My usual allowance was a dime. Fifteen cents was a most satisfactory touch.

I once told Fred his father was more generous than mine and strongly inferred he should do the buying of some jointly desired, essential item not obtainable in my father's store. Fred rolled his eyes toward the long candy case, which accounted for such popularity I might have had among other pupils, and opined that if his dad-owned a store with a candy case in it like that, he would not need any money at all. It was thus quite apparent that Fred Jr., knew a good business situation even at that early age.

IN SCHOOL, Fred was a better student than I. He also got into more trouble for such irregularities as sticking the braided hair pigtails of the girl in front of him into the ink well on his desk. This was because he did all his school assignments rapidly, thoroughly and then looked for something else to do.

As for me, I avoided all assigned readings and exercises as long as possible, often never getting to them at all; but at the same time I pretended to be studying. Actually, I normally had a copy of "Deadwood Dick," the Terror of Bloody Gulch, or some equally vicious, quasi-literary opus, inside the textbook I was supposed to be studying.

There are those who have attributed all of Fred Turner's success to the luck of one vacancy strip in the heart of the fabulously rich Yates Oil Field. They are in error. His was an earned success.

People who meet with such phenomenal success put themselves into positions of potential luck toward that success and exploit first one opportunity and then another. Some of them work out fabulously well.

Many of us rode across Yates Field before Fred Turner ever heard of it; before there was an oil rig within a hundred miles of it. Fred went there thinking and dreaming of oil; I rode across it thinking of the Deadwood Dicks of American history and English literature.

He found and has enjoyed what he wanted, and so did I. As a teacher and author I have always been generously paid for the reading of thousands of books I should have happily bought and read for sheer enjoyment had I been rich.

And now for the second dose of bad news. A letter came today telling of Fred's death, in a Brownwood, Texas, hospital. He was broken in heart and spirit by the tragedy of the prowler attracted to his Midland home by his reputation for wealth. Fred deserved better luck.

Asks Legislation To Whip Juveniles

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A bill to authorize public whipping of juvenile delinquents was introduced in the House of the Michigan Legislature Thursday.

State Rep. Arthur Law of Pontiac, a Democrat, said his bill would revive "an American institution — the old-fashioned whipping with a switch or a belt."

"It's time we quit theorizing about what causes delinquency and do something to curb it," he said.

Law, 58, an Oklahoma-born grocer and veteran of three two-year terms in the Legislature, would authorize public corporal punishment, preferably administered by the offender's father, on order from a probate judge.

NAB FUGITIVES IN BEER TAVERN

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — Two prisoners were having a beer in a Taylorsville Tavern a few hours after breaking out of the Carroll County jail.

In walked state police Cpl. Thomas Bosley with his service revolver drawn. The party was over.

Tony A. Coleman, 35, of Austin, Tex., and Wilmont C. Minnich, 29, of P.O. Box 37 Pen Mar, Pa., were back in jail today.

Sheriff H. Leroy Campbell said the pair sawed the bars from a bathroom window and used bed sheets to let themselves down from the second floor to the ground Thursday morning.

Bosley arrested the fugitives Thursday night.

Coleman was awaiting trial on burglary charges and Minnich was awaiting sentencing on six charges of forgery.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban fishermen whose apprehension in U.S. waters was a factor in the Guantanamo crisis go to court next week.

The Czech Embassy in Washington engaged a New York City firm to defend the 29 prisoners charged with fishing in Florida waters without permission.

Criminal Court Judge Thomas Caro set their arraignment for Tuesday.

Churches Must Aid To Avoid Divorces

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The church must consider whether it can do a more adequate job of preparing young people for marriage, Juvenile Court Judge John R. Mulligan Jr. suggested recently to a Catholic men's club.

Nothing that most divorces filed involve marriages of three years or less, the judge said.

"It is quite apparent that the family and the church have failed in their responsibility to prepared young people for marriage, and that, unless the responsibility is recognized and assumed, the tragic trend will continue."

How Inhuman Can A Human Being Get?

By WILLIAM MORAN

BARRE, Vt. (AP) — Police are seeking whoever bound and gagged a pet collie dog and left it to die in a hole. The dog's misery lasted six days.

"It makes you sick just to think of it," said Mrs. John P. Tomasi, whose daughter, Connie, 21, owned the dog.

Pacer was the dog's name. It vanished last Thursday. The family worried because it never did that before.

But Pacer wasn't very far away. Four neighborhood youngsters found the dog Wednesday in a wooded lot within 300 feet of the Tomasi house.

TIED SNUOT

The 2-year-old dog was in a three-foot hole. Its legs were tightly bound with twine. A string also was tied tightly around its snout, making it impossible to bark.

Brusk was thrown over the hole to prevent anyone from finding the dog.

Police helped the youngsters carry the dog home.

Tom Tomasi, 14, bathed the dog's wounds as Connie and Mrs. Tomasi tried to comfort Pacer. But Pacer was dying.

A veterinarian convinced the family Pacer should be put to sleep.

Pacer held on to life only long enough to say "goodbye" to the Tomasi family.

PROTECTED BIBLES

NEW YORK (AP) — In the Middle Ages, Bibles were so expensive that they were chained to a wall or shelf in churches and monasteries to prevent theft, G. S. Wegener recounts in a new book, "6,000 Years of the Bible," published by Harper and Row.

Scots Take Bets On Who Will Die Next

BALERNO, Scotland (AP) — You can lay a bet today in the village betting shop on who'll be the first local resident to die.

At the moment, the legalized gambling shop has seven runners in the death sweepstakes. Anybody can bet, including the men whose names are on the board for all to see. No one has collected—yet.

As each man catches cold, or suffers any form of illness, the odds change.

ODDS SHIFT

Favorite for the grave today is widower Jimmy Orr, 68, at 3-1 odds. Jimmy downed his whisky at the pub and said:

"When one of us fails to turn up either at the local pub or the betting shop, he is automatically made favorite. Only a few weeks ago I was in bed with bronchitis and was made 4-5 favorite."

Archie Mashal at 73 is the oldest man in the betting. He is joint second favorite at 6-1.

HARD DRINKERS

Archie Dickson, 59, is a rank outsider. He is youngest man on the board. The other entries contend he now is drinking lemonade instead of whisky so he can outlast the others and collect bets on death.

Some years ago a former local official said Balerno, a working class village of less than 1,000 population, near Edinburgh, was "the hardest drinking community in Scotland."

Owner Finds Stolen Vase

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. Arthur N. Hopkins looked in the window of an antique shop and noticed a 28-inch Japanese vase. It looked familiar. It was.

Dr. Hopkins called police and with Det. Daniel Murphy entered the store and identified the vase and 10 other items in the shop as having been stolen from his home Friday.

The shop owner, Mrs. Lydia McCarthy, 53, identified a man in the shop as the person who sold her a number of antique items for a total of $133. Murphy arrested a man identified as Lawrence Hinton, 22, Philadelphia, and charged him with receiving stolen goods.

In suburban Lower Merion Township, where Dr. Hopkins lives, Hinton was charged with committing the burglary. He denied it and said he hadn't sold Mrs. McCarthy anything.

45-Year Record Set Wednesday

Today's Talk

THINKING MAKES IT SO

Over and over again, we need to convince ourselves that thinking rules our lives — our health, our attitude toward others and our very happiness. Nothing good, or evil, can be that thinking doesn't make it so.

It takes but a brief talk with anyone to discover just what bosses rule the mind of such a one. It may be the worry boss, the money-mad boss, the complaint boss, the always-tired boss, or the chip-on-the-shoulder boss — just to name a few.

To succumb to any one of these mental bosses is to acknowledge that thinking makes it so. On the other hand, it is possible for thinking to turn the whole gang of "mental block busters" into the street of oblivion!

A thorough knowledge of this intricately constructed body of ours is absolutely essential to an efficient handling of the problems that face it throughout life. Yet how very few know hardly more a out it than they have to suffer when it gets out of order! Most folks take better care of their cars, homes, or business than they do of their bodies. Health is the greatest asset that a body can have — and that means the mind, for this mind cannot work efficiently in a body that is all out of sorts.

As a boy I used to go with my father to the country on many of his calls. He was a minister. And I shall never forget one of these calls on an old lady, who was a member of his church. He said: "Well, Sister how are you today?" Her reply amused and astounded me, even then. She said: "Quite miserable, Pastor. Quite miserable." I didn't doubt that she was telling the truth. Her thinking made it so.

There is no power on earth that can equal the power, or possibility, of the mind. It is God's greatest gift to man. And He meant that every individual should recognize the fact. Like a good emperor, that mind of yours can reach out into every crook and corner of its bodily realm. And it is up to every owner of this body to choose how good, or great, this mind shall be and how mighty its rule shall be.

CONTRAST
One thought she wanted diamond rings.
Rich opera cloaks and pretty things.
Tinctures and perfumes for her hair,
And hats and shoes and trinkets fair.

She thought her life would happier be
If it were trimmed with luxury.
Believing peace of mind is born
Of gawgaws fashioned to be worn.

But lived a woman down the street
Whose life with jewels was complete,
For every sort of trinket known
Was hers to wear and hers to own.

And yet she grieved from day to day
And would have flung her wealth away
From him she'd married to have heard
A truly sympathetic word.

Where love and understanding dwell,
Though wealth is absent, all is well,
But it's hell-fire to sit alone
With jewels you're allowed to own.

She charged cruelty. Terms of a property settlement were not disclosed.

day At 61 Degrees: (February 10) Wednesday set a 46-year record for February in Gettysburg weather station records with a high of 61 degrees in the afternoon. The high reading was a far cry from the four-above-zero weather being experienced here just a year ago.

Wednesday was the first time a reading of 60 degrees or above ever had been recorded here on February 9. The nearest approach to that was in 1938 when the mercury climbed to 55 degrees. Readings in the fifties have been taken here in only four other years on that date — 1925, 1927, 1939 and 1940.

Weather headed back toward normalcy Wednesday night when a low of 33 degrees was taken and by midmorning snow flakes were flying.

EAST BERLIN WALL MAY BE OPENED AGAIN

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
BERLIN (AP)—West German and Allied officials cautiously studied today a Communist East German offer to reopen the Berlin wall for the Easter and Whitman holidays.

The Communists offered the same conditions that allowed more than 500,000 West Berliners to visit relatives in East Berlin for family reunions during the Christmas and New Year's holidays on one-day passes.

The East Germans suggested renewal of the old agreement Thursday at the sixth meeting between Erich Wendt, East Germany's deputy cultural affairs minister, and Horst Korber, a West Berlin city official. They negotiated the previous agreement.

CLOSED SINCE '61

The holiday agreement gave West Berliners their first chance to visit relatives in East Berlin since the Communists erected the wall in August 1961. Thousands of West Berliners waited for hours in bitter cold and snow to apply for one-day crossing permits.

West Berlin newspapers bitterly assailed the East Germans for insisting on such an ordeal of red tape. Since then, Western officials have demanded a new method of handling crossing applications.

To meet these objections, the East Germans proposed opening temporary permit offices in West Berlin schools as early as Feb. 25 for an Easter crossing period from March 21 to March 30. Easter Sunday is on March 29.

MAY EASE RULES

The East Germans gave no indication how long they would keep the wall open for the Whitman holiday. Whitman falls on May 17.

Injecting two new elements, East Germans indicated they favored special rapid processing for family emergencies and suggested easier requirements for the reunion of separated husbands and wives.

BRITAIN ADDS TO RED TRADE

LONDON (AP)—Plans to sell British road building equipment to Cuba and to extend a huge credit to the Soviet Union for massive purchases of factories were reported today.

The disclosures came as Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home headed home from Washington after making clear to President Johnson that Britain intends to continue trade with Cuba and the Communist bloc. He says Britain must trade to survive.

Three Cuban government officials arrived to negotiate for the purchase of road rollers and earth-moving equipment, said to value $1.4 million.

At the same time a group of London banks was reported preparing a credit to finance a deal with the Soviet Union for up to $448 million worth of British fertilizer and other non-strategic chemical plants.

Colin Ryan, managing director of the Aveling Barford plant at Grantham, said his firm is negotiating to sell road rollers and earth-moving equipment to Cuba. He did not give the value of the transaction but said the amount is substantial.

Stolen Portrait Taken To School

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Police say two 13-year-old boys stole an oil painting of Abraham Lincoln and took it to school Wednesday — Lincoln's Birthday — in hope of getting good grades.

Suspicious teachers questioned the boys and learned the source of the $25 foot painting, valued at $30,000. Owner Sam Rudnick said it was brought West in covered wagon days. The boys had carried it 12 blocks to school, right past the police station.

One boy was taken to Juvenile Home; the other released to his parents. They didn't get a good grade.

CAIRO (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser has declared an amnesty for an unknown number of political prisoners, including at least three one-time followers sentenced to life imprisonment for plotting against his regime, informed sources said Thursday.

The amnesty was declared on the eve of Bairam holidays which end the Moslem holy month of Ramadan.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

CHAP REMEDY. Outdoor enthusiasts are not the only people who experience painful chapping. It can come to any of us as the result of winter-dried skin.

The cause of chap is an abnormal lack of moisture in the skin. Normally the content of the skin's outer layer is 20 per cent water. The reservoir is drained by harsh or dry weather, by overheated rooms and friction from clothing. When it falls below 10 per cent, chapping begins.

Usually the problem can be prevented by regular applications of emollients, for they act to hold the moisture on the skin. Once the damage is done, however, the skin requires special pampering.

A simple and inexpensive, yet effective remedy takes the form of white petroleum jelly. When it is slightly warmed and compressed to a chapped nose or lips, it soothes and moisturizes. Applications should be repeated daily or oftener until the condition clears.

Irritated and red from chap, hands respond to this bedtime treatment: First soak the hands in a basin of comfortable warm water for several minutes, and gently pat dry. Then apply a film of petroleum jelly and work it in, especially at the knuckles. So applied it will meld with the skin and become an invisible, stainless coating.

Not incidentally, a little girl-cought red-handed—would benefit from a bedtime hand treatment. It is so gentle that use knows no birthdays.

Whatever your skin problems, to find a solution send for my booklet, "A LOVELIER COMPLEXION." Justice Department Closing Down On Cosa Nostra Luchese And N. Y. Crime Syndicate

By RICHARD F. WHALEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Five Cosa Nostra "families" are said to control the racket in the New York area. The Justice Department is moving in on the one authorities say is headed by Thomas (Three-Fingers Brown) Luchese.

U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was here today as the frontal assault on the crime syndicate by a federal grand jury gained momentum. About two dozen of Luchese's underlings have appeared this week. Syndicate links with a ring of call girl-housewives in Long Island suburbs were disclosed Thursday by Dist. Atty. William Cahn of Nassau County.

He also announced the arrest on bookmaking charges of a partner of an accused procurer who died mysteriously in a flaming, parked automobile Tuesday.

Luchese, 48, is a short, dapper, garment industry executive who lives in a mansion on Long Island's South Shore. He has always maintained he has no connections with the crime syndicate.

His son went to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and his daughter to Vassar College. She married the son of another Cosa Nostra "family" chieftain, Carlo Gambino.

BORN IN SICILY

Luchese, who was born in Sicily, home of the Mafia, went to prison once, in 1921, for 35 months on a bootlegging charge. He lost his right forefinger in a machine shop accident in his youth.

Joseph Valachi, the turncoat snitch, told Senate investigators in Washington last October that Luchese, Gambino, Joseph Magliocco, Joseph Bonanno and Vito Genovese were the heads of the Cosa Nostra "families," or gangs, in the New York area.

In Mineola, Long Island, Cahn said a secret witness "has given us information which for the first time solidly links this ring (of call girls) with the organized underworld in metropolitan New York."

HUGE OPERATION

"This whole operation now takes on a far bigger aspect," he said.

Arrested on bookmaking charges was Joseph Napolitano, a partner of Edmund Nugent, 49, whom Cahn had called a prospective defendant who signed a statement about his part as a steerer. The two were co-owners of the Jericho Lounge.

Cahn said autopsy reports indicate Nugent was alive seconds before flames engulfed his parked car. He said there was no evidence of knockout drops. But Nugent had enough alcohol in his body to make him unfit to drive, police said.

One woman has been arrested as the madam of the alleged prostitution ring. Fourteen others, described as typical suburban housewives, are held as material witnesses.

Cahn said the $200,000-a-year ring operated through motels, restaurants and taverns.

STRIKE IN ITALY

DECISION ON RUBY'S TRIAL IS DUE TODAY

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Attorneys for both the state and defense, awaiting a decision today on a change of venue motion, said they are prepared to start questioning prospective jurors Monday for the Jack Ruby murder trial.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown said he would rule at 3 p.m. (EST) on the defense's request to move the trial to another city in Texas. He could grant the motion, deny it, or could reserve a final decision until after efforts are made to empanel a jury here. The trial is scheduled to begin Monday if it is not transferred.

Melvin Belli, chief defense counsel, said Thursday he believed "the chances are pretty good" that Brown would direct the lawyers to try to get a jury here. But Belli predicted that a jury could not be picked and that he would then get a change of venue.

READY TO BEGIN

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, who opposed transferring the case, said he is ready to start the trial of Ruby, who killed Lee Harvey Oswald in the city jail Nov. 24 before a nationwide television audience.

Oswald, 24, a professed Marxist, had been charged with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy two days earlier. During the more than three

Postponement Is Asked In Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four railroads, including the Pennsylvania and the New York Central, have asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to postpone for an extra two months the filing of statements in the proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and the NYC.

The request, which came in a letter from the two railroads and the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Maine railroads, asked for the postponement to complete a study began last fall of the possibility of forming a New England railroad.

The New England railroad would consolidate the New Haven, B&M and the Boston and Albany division of the New York Central.

The railroads told the ICC that their position in the Penn-Central merger case "could be materially affected by the results of these studies."

days of testimony — enlivened by heated arguments in the legal maneuvering—Belli sought to prove his contention that "there is a blueprint in Dallas to deprive our client of a fair trial."

The defense insisted that "the Dallas oligarchy" composed of civic organizations and leaders had so emphasized, "the shame brought on the Dallas image" that a juror "would be obligated to convict Jack Ruby of murder with malice to prove that Dallas is a place of law and order."

MURPHY MAPS DRIVE TO ENTER SENATE RACE

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Right this way, senator."

George Murphy beamed and followed the Brown Derby head-waiter toward a booth. The Irishman stopped to table-hop along the way, and pal told him, "George, you may win the Republican primary."

"And the general election, too," Murphy replied firmly.

He arrived at the booth after a circuitous route and talked of the new career he has approached with the same cheerful confidence he brought to his first career as hooper and actor.

Now it's George Murphy, corporation executive, World's Fair showman and candidate for United States Senate. With only financier Leland Kaiser in the Republican race as yet and the Democrats in a state of confusion over the health of Sen. Clair Engle, Murphy's candidacy is being taken seriously by party pros.

MAKE DECISION

What brought about his change from an acting career? "I wasn't working," he said. "It seems that political activity doesn't hurt a liberal who is an actor, but it can hurt a conservative."

"I decided to see if I could earn a living from what I had been doing for nothing."

His activities had been stage-managing the Republican National Conventions, helping the Eisenhower campaigns and doing public relations chores for the film industry. The latter earned him an Academy Award.

After he left MGM, Murphy got a phone call from Desi Arnaz. "I just bought a movie studio," said the Cuban. "Come over and help me run it."

REWARDING JOB

Murphy went with Desilu in a public relations and production capacity, then left to become a vice president, with the new Technicolor management. His duties include public and government relations. He reckons his salary at a fifth of what he made as a film star, but the challenge and the opportunity are rewarding, he said.

He also formed George Murphy & Associates and scouted

Mixed Marriages Last In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — When a man of Japanese ancestry marries a girl of Chinese ancestry in Hawaii, the chances are good that the marriage will last.

Such a racial combination is the best, statistics indicate, of nearly three dozen possible racial combinations in the Hawaiian Islands.

The worst combination — again viewed statistically — is the Japanese man who marries a Caucasian girl. More than half these marriages end in divorce.

The statistics come from Dr. Andrew W. Lind, senior professor of sociology at the University of Hawaii. In an added footnote, he said: "As races merge in Hawaii, variations in ethnic group divorce rates will probably be reduced."

Morley's Son In Famous Play

HONOLULU (AP) — Sheridan Morley, son of British actor Robert Morley, is working with the University of Hawaii's drama faculty as a graduate assistant.

He helped stage three plays for the formal opening of the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Theater on the campus. One of them was "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Morley was born while his famous father was playing the lead role of Sheridan Whiteside in the same play 21 years ago, which is how young Morley came by the name "Sheridan."

ISCHIA, Italy (AP) — This vacation island off the Bay of Naples boasts an unusual attraction — the green sunset.

At places along the island's north coast the growth of under-sea plants and the color of the water cause an illusion at some seasons of the year when the sunset has shades of green instead of the usual red or orange.

possibilities of a pleasure park in Phoenix. This was shelved for another enterprise: the Hollywood exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

The studios cooperated; not so the state of California. "The administration kept us waiting nine months before deciding not to go in on the exhibit," said Murphy, adding another reason for his displeasure with the Democrats.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE HUGH SCOTT CLAN

An outstanding pioneer family who settled early in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, was the Scotts. Many members of this clan are buried in the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian graveyard and they are, therefore included in this historical and genealogical survey of that burial ground.

The Scotts, who settled in what is now Chester County, Pennsylvania. The first Hugh Scott emigrated from the North of Ireland and settled in Chester County in the latter part of the seventeenth century. One historian states that Hugh (1) Scott arrived in this country in 1670.

Abram (2) Scott, the son of the pioneer, Hugh (1) Scott, was born in 1677, in Chester County, Pa., and died about 1760. He left among other children, two sons, Hugh (3) and Josiah (3) Scott. Josiah (3) Scott is buried in the old Presbyterian churchyard at Washington, Pa. The inscription from the marker at his grave follows:—

1. "In memory of — Josiah Scott — who died on the 20th of February — 1819 — Aged 84 years. Having sustained a character for honesty, piety and — usefulness, he came to the grave in — a full age, — as a shock of corn cometh in his season." Buried beside Josiah (3) Scott is his second wife —

2. "In memory of — Jane

December 26th, A.D., — 1831 — In the 82nd year — of her age."

Note: — Jane Scott, the second wife of Josiah (3) Scott, was, before her marriage, Jane Gordon. She was the mother of four sons. It is not known just where Josiah (3) Scott's first wife, Violet (Foster) Scott, is buried.

Abraham (2) Scott and his wife (name unknown) were the parents of the following children:—

1. Ann (3) Scott — born 1699 — married Arthur Patterson about 1720 — died in 1792. Arthur Patterson died in 1763.

Both Arthur Patterson and his wife, Ann (Scott) are interred in the old Donegal Presbyterian burial ground, located in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. The inscriptions from their gravestones follow:—

3. "In memory of — Arthur Patterson — Died July 3, 1763 — Aged 66 years."

4. "In memory of — Ann, his wife — Died May 1, 1792 — Aged 93 years."

5. "In memory of — James Patterson — Born February, 1720 — Died May 19, 1789."

Note: — A son of Arthur and Ann (Scott) Patterson who is buried on his parents' plot in the old Donegal churchyard.

6. "In memory of — Margaret Patterson — the wife of James Patterson, deceased — Died April 16, 1794 — Aged 50 years."

Note: — This epitaph is self-explanatory. Margaret the wife of James Patterson and the daughter — in — law of Ann (Scott) Patterson, is buried beside her husband on the Arthur Patterson plot.

7. "In memory of — Mary Patterson — the consort of Arthur Patterson — Died January 15, 1813 — Aged 39 years."

Note: — The wife of Arthur Patterson (second of the name) and the daughter — in — law of Ann (Scott) Patterson, who is interred in her husband's family burial plot. If the second Arthur Patterson is buried here his grave is unmarked. It is very probably that, his first wife having died young, Arthur Patterson married again and is buried elsewhere.

8. "In memory of — Jean Patterson — the daughter of — Arthur and Ann Patterson — Died May 2, 1800 — Aged 61 years."

Note: — The youngest daughter of Arthur and Ann (Scott) Patterson — who died unmarried.

9. In memory of — Samuel Patterson — who departed this life — November 15th, 1820 — Aged 94 years. — Also — Martha, his wife — Died September 10th, 1772 — Aged 33 years."

Note: — Another son of Arthur and Ann (Scott) Patterson who is buried with his parents in the old Donegal churchyard. With him, "Martha, his wife," lies interred.

In addition to the children already mentioned Arthur and Ann (Scott) Patterson were also the parents of William Patterson, Rebecca Patterson, Ellen Patterson and Catharine Patterson.

Thomas (3) Scott, the son of Abram (2) Scott, was born in 1705. Nothing further is known pertaining to this member of the Scott clan. It is possible that he died young — unmarried — and for that reason only is name is mentioned in the family chronicles.

3. Rebecca (3) Scott, the second daughter of Abraham (2) Scott, was born December 17, 1707 — became the second wife of the pioneer James Agnew in 1737. Both are interred in the Lower Marsh Creek graveyard, under a large flat stone with the Agnew coat — of — arms cut thereon:—

10. "Here lies the body of — James Agnew, — who departed this life, October the 2nd., 1770 — Aged 59 years."

"In memory of — Rebecca Agnew — wife of James Agnew — who departed this life the — 25th of December, 1789 — Aged 82 years."

James and Rebecca (Scott) Agnew were the parents of the following children:—

1. Samuel (4) Agnew — born January 29, 1738 — married Elizabeth Johnston.

2. Martha (4) Agnew — born September 9, 1740 — married Samuel Patterson.

3. James (4) Agnew — born

Bowling Replaces School Basketball

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — In basketball conscious Kentucky, bowling has become the major winter recreational activity for Fifth and Sixth Grades in Hopkinsville schools.

Recreation officials said grade school basketball was dropped because it was difficult to find coaches and supervisors, enrollment varied too much among schools and crowded schedules sometimes curtailed games.

The City Recreation Department, businessmen and Parent-Teacher Association are supporting the bowling program for 300 pupils.

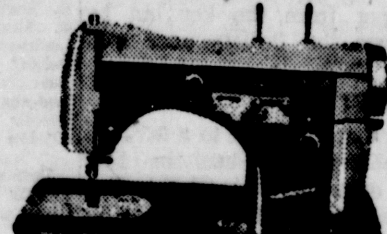

May 1, 1742 — married Mary Ramsey.

4. David Agnew — born July 17, 1743 — married Mary Erwin — both are buried in Lower Marsh Creek churchyard.

The notes on the Scott family will be continued in this column next week.

Sermon For The Week

REV. JOHN S. BISHOP
Associate Pastor
St. James Lutheran Church

OPENING THE DOOR

Before reading these brief devotions please read the first four verses of the 122nd Psalm and verses 16 through 21 of the fourth chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

Strange thoughts come 'o a man lying in a foxhole. Such thoughts came to Basil Spence, a British intelligence officer who in civilian life had been a struggling young architect. While lying in a foxhole in Normandy on D-Day - plus - two, watching British tank guns blow apart two beautiful old churches to get at snipers in their towers, Spence resolved, "If ever I get the chance, I'm going to build a cathedral."

That opportunity came in 1951. In open competition for a design for a new coventry cathedral, to replace the original edifice destroyed in the worst blitz England suffered from Nazi bombs, Basil Spence won over 219 other contestants. To Spence, churches spoke of man's faith and aspirations, and when one was destroyed that particular light was put out forever. I believe it was Dr. George Buttrick who said that church spires are like fingers pointing to God.

OPENS DOOR TO GOD

The late Dr. H. D. Hoover, long-time friend of many folks in Adams County, always said that when a man comes to church, he opens the door for God to come into his heart. We prepare ourselves for worship by building special places for worship. We make them different from any other building in the community so that they will be conducive to the worship of God.

Deep in the woods at Camp Nawakwa near Brysonia there is a beautiful outdoor chapel with an unusual stone altar set in a grove of hemlock trees, dedicated in memory of Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer, founder of the camp. One evening several years ago a guest recreational leader, not knowing the significance of the spot, involved it in a "Night's Doings" game. Some of the senior boys were quite perturbed because this happened. They felt this place should be used only for worship.

We make our churches beautiful. We dedicate them to the glory of God. We design them also to be conducive to worship, and to keep our minds free from the distractions of the outside world so that God may have an opportunity with us.

The psalmist expressed the greatest joy of his life when he said, "I was glad when they said unto me, 'Let us go unto the house of the Lord.'" In ancient times the people of God journeyed to the Holy City to celebrate the great festivals of their religion. Often entire communities traveled in caravans for safety's sake. The psalmist welcomed the invitation of his friends and neighbors to join the party going to church. Some one said, "Upon this earth there is no scene more impressive than a company of human souls, many or few, bowed in the hushed awe of a house of God."

ORBIT PATH: THE CROSS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The entire message of America's astronauts has not yet been deciphered. Parts of it still lie locked within instruments, and most of it still is hidden in the infinity of space. But we are learning, and we might say that the astronauts are our teachers.

Many, many years ago there was another great Teacher, and His message is still being revealed through faith to the mind of mankind. His message is the path of the Cross... the path to eternal life.

But where do we find our instructions, our briefing? What instruments can we use to discover this message for ourselves? You will find it in your church, this Sunday.

We all know now about Cape Canaveral, about tracking stations. We are discovering more about outer space.

We know too about the Church. Let us use it then as our guide, our booster, our thrust to Heaven.

DAVIDSON'S WILDCATS ARE GIVEN UPSET

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Furman made college basketball history a decade ago when the Paladins walloped Newberry 149-95 and Frank Selvy scored 100 points for an individual single game NCAA record that still stands.

Exactly 10 years from that historic night of Feb. 13, 1954, Furman turned in another memorable performance by upsetting the Davidson Wildcats, the nation's fourth-ranked team 70-55.

"We have some special plans for them, and we're going to make them work letter perfect," said Furman Coach Lyles Alley before the game.

GET REVENGE

That's just what his boys did as they avenged an early season 89-63 trouncing by Davidson to hand the Wildcats their second defeat of the season in 20 starts.

A capacity crowd of 5,600, including Frank Selvy as honor guest, howled in glee at Greenville, S.C. as the Paladins turned the game into a rout with a 14-4 burst late in the game.

Drake stayed on top of the Missouri Valley Conference with a 53-50 victory over North Texas, Bradley downed Tulsa 73-64 in overtime, Providence won its 12th straight by defeating Rhode Island 86-72, Wyoming beat Denver 77-68 and

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

THY FAITH HATH MADE THEE WHOLE

On His way out of Jericho en route to the triumphant entry into Jerusalem, Jesus worked one of His last miracles. He cured Bartimaeus, the blind beggar who sat by the roadside and began crying out when he heard Jesus of Nazareth was passing by.

The crowd tried to hush him, but Jesus called and asked him, "What wilt thou that I should do unto thee?"

The blind man said unto Him, "Lord, that I may see."

And Jesus said unto him, "Go thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole." And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus along the road. (Mark XI:46-52)

BOMB BLASTS GREENHOUSES

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A bomb exploded between two greenhouses here Thursday night, police said, causing an estimated $50,000 damage and hurling pieces of glass over a wide area.

Det. Sgt. Joseph Interrante of Norristown police said they were unable to determine what type of bomb or explosive device caused the blast. He said they would search the area today for fragments of bomb casing.

The blast occurred between two greenhouses at Genardi Florists in the east end of town. Joseph Genardi, the owner, made the damage estimate and called it "conservative." He said the explosion ruined his entire stock of plants.

The explosion left a hole three feet in diameter and three feet deep.

It was the second bombing in two weeks in that section of Montgomery County. The first incident involved a bomb planted under a parked automobile.

MOST OF '63 CHAMPIONS IN RUNNING AGAIN

By DAVE LEHERR
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP) — The 1964 scholastic basketball race is beginning to look like a carbon copy of 1963.

All but one of the defending district champions in Class A competition are still in the running, including the king of them all, Plymouth-Whitemarsh.

The Colonials are 15-1 for the season and 11-0 in the Suburban Two Conference to rate a strong favorite for the District One title.

ONLY CASUALTY

The only casualty to date is Knoch of District 9 which has dropped seven of 11 games and stands 5-6 in the Butler County League.

Other schools making strong bids for a repeat win are Scranton Central, Harrisburg Penn. Danville, Johnstown, Pittsburgh Peabody, Erie Tech and powerful Catasauqua.

Punxsutawney looks like the team to beat in District 9 with heavy pressure from Brookville and Bradford.

PLAY OFF NEAR

Somerset and Bradford are battling for District Five honors while Norwin faces a raft of opposition in the WPAL.

The Interdistrict playoffs start early next month with the climax coming March 21 when the Class A championship game is staged at the Harrisburg Farm Show Arena.

Although still in the running, few of the teams are shoe-ins. Far from it, in fact.

Plymouth-Whitemarsh, which won its first Class A state championship in history last year, blew a 38-game winning streak this season, but still ranks as the big favorite in District One.

Other contenders are Coatesville (16-2) of the Ches-Mont League, Haverford of the Suburban One League, Springfield, (14-1) in the Buxmont Conference and Norristown, the team that snapped P-W's streak.

Uniontown, the Class A king in 1962, Midland, Mount Lebanon and New Castle are among the teams threatening to unseat Norwin. The Red Raiders are 19-0, romping over everything in their path.

5-WAY BATTLES

Name-teams in District Two,

Pottstown Man Killed In Crash

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — H. Russell Wade, 56, former Upper Pottsgrove Township supervisor, was killed Thursday in an automobile collision with a car driven by Lester S. Weiss, 50, of Gilbertsville. R. 1. Weiss' wife, Hannah, 60, was treated at Pottstown Hospital. Weiss was not hurt.

are Scranton Central, West Hazleton, Kingston and Plymouth. Central is 10-0 in the Lackawanna League but West Hazleton has gone over 100 points five different times in its march to a 17-1 mark.

Lebanon, Reading and Steelton-Highspire are pressing Harrisburg Penn in the Central Penn League and District Three. Penn won the first half title, losing only to Lebanon. The second half race is knotted in a five-way deadlock.

Another five-way battle is developing in District 11 between Catasauqua, Pottsville, Allentown Dieruff, Allentown Allen, and Mahanoy Area.

SOME DARK HORSES

Catasauqua, spearheaded by high scoring Larry Miller, is making shambles of the Lehigh Valley League, but its different story in the East Penn Conference.

Pottsville, which won the first half-title, has given way to the two Allentown schools in the second half. Other dark horses are Nazareth and Parkland, the pace-setters in the Lehigh-Northampton League.

In District 10 Erie Tech is fighting it out with Erie Strong Vincent, Erie Academy and McDowell for Section One honors, then must face opposition from Meadville, Warren, Hickory, or Sharpville of the Section Two and Three conferences.

The Pittsburgh City League championship also looks like a tossup between Peabody, Fifth Avenue and South Hills.

Danville and Johnstown figure to have the easiest rides to a repeat title. The Ironmen have suffered only one loss in 15 games, while Johnstown, an independent, is 15-2.

WASHINGTON (AP)—At the White House state dinner for British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home Thursday night, comedian Milton Berle moved unawakened through the reception line.

Arriving at President Johnson, Berle shook hands and quipped: "I didn't catch your name."

Preschool registration for St. Joseph's Catholic Elementary School at Bonneauville will be held Sunday following Mass. Preschool vision screening will again be provided for the children registering for school, and any younger children, ages three and four, whose parents wish to have participate in the program. The purpose of pre-school vision screening is to locate early eye defects and to provide treatment so that children may begin school with the best possible vision.

Pictured above are Betsy M. Shank of the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind; Mrs. Catherine Groff, registered nurse for the school, and Sister Alverna, a teacher at St. Joseph's School, who will be participating in the registration and screening Sunday.

Harmful Effects Are Seen By PIAA

HARRISBURG (AP) — Mark Funk, executive director of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, says the American Broadcasting Co. plan to televise National Football League games Friday nights would have a harmful effect on the state's high school football program.

"I would think that it would be in the best interest of the National Football League not to do this," said Funk, "unless, of course, they are thinking only in terms of dollars and cents."

"There is no doubt as to the effect it would have on scholastic football in this state. With pro football so popular and the TV sets so handy, a good number of fans could be expected to stay at home."

Funk said many high schools in Pennsylvania depend on football to finance their entire athletic program.

Property Owners Hopeful That Government Will Pay For Homes Lost In Cave-Ins

Editor's Note: Over the past 10 years folks in Coal Dale and many other towns in the eastern Pennsylvania coal fields have resigned themselves to the inevitability of cave-ins that always damage and sometimes destroy their homes. This AP State Spotlight, provided by the staff of the Allentown Morning Call, details the situation.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

COALDALE, Pa. (AP) — The people of this hard coal town of 4,000 hover ever on the brink of personal disaster—but they have found the courage to live with it.

In a way, their conquest of fear is reminiscent of how British towns stood up to the blitz of World War II. Only here destruction comes not from the skies but from below.

The earth yawns as if cleft by a giant, unseen sledge, and houses are sucked into the void. Sometimes it happens quickly, sometimes with agonizing slowness.

RESIDENTS RESIGNED

Over the last 10 years the people have resigned themselves, although not without resentment, to the inevitability of cave-ins, which are blamed on abandoned mining operations.

In the beginning news of a cave-in usually spread alarm. Now there is hardly a quiver. The hazard is accepted; so is the hardship. Many a Coal Dale family has seen its life savings wiped out in efforts to rebuild a split and twisted home. Many a family pays and pays for what is irreparably lost.

In other parts of eastern Pennsylvania, particularly in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, the saving grace of earth and sinking of houses—even streets—goes on, and for the same reason. Here, however, the devastation seems particularly stark, the plight of the victims especially poignant.

WORST CAVE-IN

One of the worst of Coal Dale's cave-ins started in the early hours of last April 17, when the earth shuddered in an area where the first cave-ins occurred in 1952. Twenty-two families have been forced from their homes.

One of the victims is Michael Kelly, who has lived here for 40 years. His house all but disappeared.

SENATE PROBE LOOMING OVER FUSS IN K.C.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The defiant efforts of Charles O. Finley to pull his American League baseball club out of Kansas City threatened today to get tangled in a swelling Senate investigation.

The league already has threatened to revoke Finley's franchise unless he comes to terms which would keep the team in Kansas City.

With Finley showing no sign of yielding to his fellow club owners' ultimatum and threatening an antitrust suit if the league attempts to enforce it, Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., blazed away from the flanks with a new threat of trouble for the battling club owner.

TO URGE QUESTIONS

Long announced from Kansas City that he was preparing to demand that the Senate antitrust and monopoly investigating subcommittee subpoena Finley for questioning and his financial records for scrutiny in connection with the row.

Long is a member of the subcommittee, and such a request from a member often is granted—but not always. Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., told a reporter he would await developments before commenting.

The antitrust subcommittee repeatedly has "invited" Finley to testify Tuesday at a hearing which could bring him into a dramatic confrontation with American League President Joe Cronin, a scheduled witness. Cronin, like Long, insists the team must stay in Kansas City.

City Drops Law Against Noise

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — You can make noise in this resort city — even in the winter.

The city's old "antinoise" law — enacted to protect tourists' ears in the peak of the winter vacation period — was knocked out by the Third District Court of Appeal. The appellate judges said the transition to year-around tourist business had squelched the need that may have once existed for special laws for winter months.

JOINT WORSHIP STUDY

LONDON (AP) — A joint liturgical group has been informed by Anglican, Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Congregational churches of Great Britain to study and appraise various modes of worship.

Ironically, most of the cave-in victims have worked for none but Lehigh Coal and Navigation. Some get by on small incomes. Some get the anthracite miners' pension, which has dwindled from $100 a month to $30. Not even social security money is enough for some to pay the added cost of re-locating. Hope that their pleas will be heard and acted upon keeps them going.

Prize Cow Wrong Color For Champ

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — When Jim Beauchamp, Tulsa Oiler

outfitter, was honored as the Texas League's 1963 "player of the year," the baseball team's owner presented him with a Hereford cow, a pretty red and white one.

But Beauchamp raises black Aberdeen Angus cattle on a ranch near Grove. So Oiler General Manager Hugh Finnerty threw in a gallon of black paint and a brush.

TRY TO SHAKE SINATRA ON KIDNAP STORY

By JAMES BACON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A trio of defense lawyers, bent upon proving a publicity hoax, try today to shake the story of Frank Sinatra Jr. that his kidnapping was real and frightening.

Young Sinatra has only a few minutes of direct testimony left today as a government witness. Then his cross-examination starts.

Sinatra, 19 at the time of the kidnapping but since turned 20, testified in U.S. District Court Thursday that he was kidnapped from Lake Tahoe last Dec. 8 "with a gun in my ribs."

DENIES COOPERATING

He told how he was blindfolded, given sleeping pills and held captive for 54 hours until his father paid $240,000 ransom.

Prime target of the cross-examination undoubtedly will be Sinatra's own story of how he cooperated with his alleged abductors to elude a police roadblock. The defense has charged that Sinatra cooperated in the deed so that the publicity "would make the girls swoon over him as they did over his papa."

Sinatra, under oath, denied any such motive.

SOMETIMES NERVOUS

"My state of mind was fear—and the question: Why was all of this happening to me?" Sinatra said.

He testified he cooperated in the roadblock evasion because of two remarks made by the two men in the car.

He said they said: "If there is any trouble, there's going to be shooting."

And "Jeez, this gun is uncomfortable in my belt."

The frail witness, sometimes extremely poised, occasionally nervous, told the court that his ordeal began when a tall young man entered his room at Harrah's Lodge with a wine carton, ostensibly a gift.

ONE IDENTIFIED

"Then he removed a black leather glove from his right hand and produced a small caliber revolver."

"At first, I just stared blankly at the weapon. I thought that it might have been a very bad joke."

The intruder was identified in court by Sinatra as defendant Barry Keenan, 23. The other defendants are Joseph Amsler, 23, and John Irwin, 42. Sinatra said he was blindfolded all but a few minutes during his captivity. He could not identify the other defendants.

SAYS AGENCIES HIDE RECORDS OF REYNOLDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — L. P. McLendon, special counsel for the Senate's Bobby Baker investigation, says that when he asked executive agencies for background records on a key witness he was told they were classified.

The witness he was referring to is Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance agent whose testimony brought the name of President Johnson into the inquiry being conducted by the Senate Rules Committee.

McLendon told newsmen Thursday that he inquired of both the Defense and Justice departments, prior to Reynolds' testimony, if background records on him were available.

"I was informed the reason they were not available is that they were classified," McLendon said.

LEAKED DATA

Since Reynolds testified, columnist Drew Pearson has published derogatory information about him as material that came from files of the Defense Department and other agencies.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., a

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — A local woman produces mosaics with beans and popcorn.

Mrs. Delphine Rhodd utilizes them to create colorful fowl.

She uses pinto beans, navy beans, lima beans and lentils to make the wings, back and breasts. Then popcorn, tinted with food coloring, takes care of the other areas. And the eyes are black-eyed peas.

Mrs. Rhodd says she does it "strictly for fun."

Rules Committee member, demanded Thursday that the Pentagon and the FBI investigate what he termed the use of leaked official information "to destroy witnesses whose testimony becomes embarrassing."

SCRANTON NOT TO SOFTEN HIS POSITION ON UC

By JACK LYNCH
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton is willing to discuss his unemployment compensation proposal with top labor leaders, but he insists there will be no compromise in his position.

He told a news conference Thursday he would invite labor to an open meeting to discuss the facts, but not to debate its merits. Newsmen would be invited.

"It is just to give the public the facts," he said. "There is information going out from labor that is absolutely false and it is time to clear this up."

STRONGLY OPPOSED

The governor was asked if he would compromise any portions of the bill submitted Tuesday. It has been strongly opposed by organized labor.

"I certainly would not," he said. "I think the bill as it stands is a very excellent bill and I will fight for its enactment."

Despite the statements about falsehoods both at the news conference and in his speech to the legislature on Tuesday, Scranton said he has not "declared war on labor."

BOYER WAITING

Harry Boyer, president of the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO, said he would await an invitation from the governor before making full comment. However, he indicated he might be available for a meeting at a mutually agreeable time.

Charles Sludden, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said such a meeting "would be an exercise in futility," adding:

"How can you discuss something which the governor has foreclosed?"

EXPLAINS PURPOSES

Scranton said he had favorable response from some labor leaders about his proposal which is designed to stabilize the unemployment compensation fund. He declined to name the leaders, however.

Most of the weekly meeting with newsmen was devoted to the proposal, which would raise employer-paid taxes and reduce payout benefits.

Scranton said the intent of the bill is to create larger benefits "for the great mass of people" in the labor force, not to cut them, and to stabilize the fund to make Pennsylvania more attractive for potential new industries.

He said he was not personally connected with a committee that already has begun to take newspaper advertisements in favor of the proposal. He also said he was not contributing any of his own funds.

Decline In Flow Of Money Abroad Reduces Potential Interest Rate Increases

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Success in slowing the outflow of dollars to other lands is taking some of the steam out of the pressure building up for higher interest rates. These are regarded as a prime weapon in halting the drain on dollars and gold.

But some bankers say tighter money is sure to come anyway, even if the international problem eases. Others look for the official money managers to try to hold down the rate of expansion in the money supply later this year. This is sure to be fought by many in and out of government.

TWO GOALS INVOLVED

Involved are the two goals, often seemingly at odds—Saving the U.S. gold reserves and spurring the domestic economy to make more jobs.

Lining up in both government and banking circles are the advocates of easier money to finance a boom and on the other side those who think credit should be tightened to forestall inflation.

Some say that 1964 will see the fight against the deficit in U.S. payments with the rest of the world working even more at cross purposes with the economic boost expected from a federal income tax cut.

MONEY DEBATE

This would complicate the easy money debate. The official view, however, is that a booming economy here will attract foreign dollars and solve the gold problem — and hopefully furnish the needed jobs.

Interest rates were pushed up on short-term loans when so many dollars were going abroad to take advantage of higher yields there that the payments deficit was soaring and foreigners were using surplus dollars to buy U.S. gold. Higher rates here kept many of these dollars at home, and the gold loss slowed to a trickle.

PROBLEM EASED

In the last six months the balance of payments problem has eased notably. The deficit comes from foreigners spending less on American goods and for investment here than this government and private concerns spend abroad for imports, loans, grants, investment.

At mid-1963 the deficit had mounted to a $5-billion annual rate. At the end of the year it had fallen to an annual rate of $1.5 billion. For the year as a whole the official deficit is put at $3 billion. But Washington is taking heart chiefly from the sharp drop in the final months.

Emphasis thus has been shifting to the possibility of tightening credit at home to forestall an inflationary boom rather than to preserve the gold at Ft. Knox.

MONEY SUPPLY UP

Last year the money supply here increased by 4 per cent. The supply is the amount actually in circulation plus the total of demand deposits. An increasing money supply finances both consumer purchases and business investment — that is, the growth of the economy. The question is how much the money supply can be increased without producing a boom that leads to price inflation.

Some bankers here are arguing that the regulators of credit should allow another 4 per cent increase this year. Some officials are reported of the opinion that would cause inflation and that perhaps a 3 per cent increase would serve the economy better.

If demand expands as expected after the tax cut, and the money and credit supply is held down, interest rates will be under pressure to rise.

If lots of credit is allowed to build up and money turns easier, interest rates will fall. And then there'll be that payments deficit and gold problem again.

Anyway, that's how bankers see the tight rope that Washington will have to walk in coming months.

Put Nonsag Beds In N. Y. Prison

NEW YORK (AP)—Prison officials got a preview Thursday of the $10.3-million correctional reception center on Rikers Island in the East River.

A far cry from the old prisons, the cells are painted pastel green or light beige and feature nonsag beds.

The three-story structure, with a capacity of 1,204 prisoners, will be used as a first stop for all prisoners sentenced to terms of 30 days or more.

Quintuplets Are Five Months Old

ABERDEEN, S.C. (AP)—

Still too young to recognize the traditional hearts and flowers routine of Valentine's Day, the famed Fischer quintuplets are five months old today.

The festive day is just another 24 hours in the lives of James Andrew, Mary Ann, Mary Catherine, Mary Margaret and Mary Magdalene, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer.

Valentines aplenty were assured for the Fischer household by the five older children—Dann, 7, and his four sisters—Charlotte, 8, Julie, 6, Evelyn, 4, and Denise, 3.

Aberdeen, a community of 25,000, was planning nothing special for the day.

As one observer put it: "Heck, what more valentines would you want than those cute quints?"

CIVIL RIGHTS LEADERS FACE LIBEL CHARGE

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Two local civil rights leaders have been charged with criminal libel and conspiracy to commit an unlawful act in the aftermath of a school integration boycott here.

The charges were filed Thursday by the Rev. Donald G. Ming, acting chairman of Chester's Human Relations Commission, against Stanley E. Branche, chairman of the Committee for Freedom Now and Dr. Felder Rouse, vice chairman of the organization, which sponsored the boycott.

CALLS "VILLIFICATION"

Branche and Rouse posted $500 bond each and were to appear today before Magistrate Phil Puzanich for a hearing.

Mr. Ming said the charges were based on statements coming from a mass meeting of the integration group and the act of hanging him in effigy Wednesday night during a rally.

Mr. Ming said he was acting as an individual and not in an official capacity. He called the action "a villification of my character."

Branche said Mr. Ming was being "duped" by the city administration and he called him "a very foolish man."
